CAMPUS WEEK

It rained Monday. Smokers stood inside doorways, wisps of smoke slowly drifting out to meet the rain. The lunch line at noon was longer. Students stayed on campus, instead of going up the strete to Charlston's or down to fraternity houses.

Rally Comm met in the evening in the TRAIL office. (See Organizations). While greek members discussed school spirit in that meeting, their pledges were busy pulling surprise sneaks (See Greeks).

It poured Tuesday. Students left second floor Jones for the SUB with watery sun streaming through the winodws. When they reached the downstairs door, a wall of water barricaded them in. Central Board met in the faculty lounge (See Central Board Minutes).

Workmen dup up evidences of the PLC raid between downpours. They cleared a portion of earth in the grass across from the SUB, promptly turning it to a square of mud.

A strong wind blew away the rain Wednesday. Students were propelled from building to building by its force, and were blinded by a brilliant sun. The homecoming committee met and consumed quantities of cups of coffee while thrashing over their plans (See Students). Classes were cut, as car, sorority, and fraternity radios were tuned to the World Series playoffs.

AWS met Thursday noon to elect frosh representatives, and the General came to visit (See Students).

Tonight the junior class sponsors their three-ring Spirit Night. A free dinner, skits, and the banner dance are in the offing.

Football practice was behind the fieldhouse this week, as the turf was made ready for the game tomorrow afternoon with Western.

STUDENTS

Spirit Night . . .

Tonight is scheduled to be a big night in college life at CPS. Tonight is "Spirit Night." A full evening of entertainment has been planned to boost student body morale before the Eastern game tomorrow afternoon.

The night's festivities leads off with a FREE dinner in the SUB at 6 p. m.

Following dinner students will troop over to Jones Hall auditorium, where at 7, skits presented by the pledge classes of various organizations will be given.

At 8 an all school pep rally will be held. The rally will center around a blazing bonfire in the parking lot north of the SUB.

At 8:30 music will start in the SUB and for two-bits (25c) you can go into the SUB and dance to that music. The two-bits is for the purchase of a new pep banner to replace the one stolen last year.

The night is sponsored by the Junior Class.

Frosh Election . . .

Last week the first meeting of the freshman class was held in auditorium. Amid the usual confusion the new class officers were elected. These included Ron Tatum, president; Don Chew, vice president; Beverly Nelson, secretary-treasurer; Bob Powell, sergeant-at-arms; Steve Tudor and Jim Nelson, Central Board representatives. "A good percentage of the class was there for election," Ron said, "but it is hoped that all can make the next meeting as some important issues will come up."

Dorm Girls . . .

The girls in Anderson Hall got together last week and elected officers for the dorm year. Tri-Delta President Jane Simmons will also wield the gavel over the dorm girls. Her sorority sister, Pat Parrott, is the 'veep'; Joan March, the secretary; Sara Jaeger, the treasurer, and Mary Lou Terauk, the sergeant-at-arms. Other officers are Glee Callahan, historian; Phyllis Eastham, song leader; Bev Warner, social chairman, and Bev Muir, scholarship chairman.

Rally Comm . . .

Rally Comm members leaned on desks and the art stand in the TRAIL office Monday night. Liz Fleming stood behind the big desk and began the meeting.

It was decided to hold try-outs for two alternate yell kings Friday night at 7:30 in lower Jones. Liz asked for volunteers from each organization to act as a spirit promoter for their group.

A unanimous vote was cast for Liz Fleming as Rally Comm president. She replaces Money Dessen who did not return to school. Clank Engell was chosen to replace Liz as Rally chairman.

The next Rally Comm meeting will be Monday at 6:30 in the TRAIL office.

The Thing . . .

A box labeled 12 quarts of 90-proof Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey sat by the bursar's window Friday morning. Passersby looked, stopped and looked again to see who at CPS would be getting such stuff. The box labeled fragile, and liquid was addressed simply to the College of Puget Sound. Student imaginations tried to figure out what was happening. Money Dessen laughingly told the curious that the box was a duplicate shipment for the athletic department and that it would be sent back. No one cared much because upon opening the box they found it contained tincture of benzoin.

Out-of-Towners . . .

Catherine Moosey, the small, dark haired assistant to John Blake, sat down at her desk in the news bureau, surrounded by filing cabinets and typewriters. She went through the files looking for a story lead, and found some interesting data on student home towns.

A total of 40 states are now represented at CPS. Students from 42 Washington towns and cities now call the campus their home. Another factor of interest is that 17 foreign countries are represented here by students from other lands.

Log Book . . .

The 1951-52 Who's Where Log Book will be ready for publication in about three weeks. This announcement was made by John Blake, Log Book staff adviser.

Deep Creek . . .

If work continues according to plan and the weather man gives us enough snow this winter, CPS skiers will have the use of a new ski run at Deep Creek. In the past, our skiers have used the short run at Cayuse Pass. This is ten miles beyond the school's Deep Creek Lodge.

Four weeks ago, Forestry Department men moved into the area adjacent to the lodge and began chopping down timber. An area one-eighth of a mile wide and 300 yards long was partially cleared. The fallen timber was burned off but tree stumps were left sticking out of the ground. In some places it is going to take four feet of packed snow to make a smooth run. This mountain area in the past has had an average snow fall of seven feet.

The college purchased a ski lift last year and will be available for use on the new run. The area will be under the supervision of the Forest Department and will be open to the public for skiing.

In the past, the school bus has provided transportation to and from the lodge. If enough students are interested in making use of the lodge this year, transportation will again be provided.

The lodge can accommodate 60 people. Each cabin is equipped with a stove and hot running water. The rates are the same as they were last year. Students, faculty and guests $1 per night and 50c for each additional night. Members of Chinook are charged 50c for the first night and each additional night.

The skiing season in the Deep Creek area usually starts around the first part of December.

CENTRAL BOARD MINUTES

October 2, 1951

The meeting was opened by President Cal Frazier. The roll was taken and the minutes were read and approved.

The representatives of the organizations were welcomed. Willard Gee, the non-voting faculty adviser, was introduced. The Freshman representatives, Steve Tudor, and Jim Nelson, were introduced.

There will be a game on the CPS football field with Eastern on Sat., Oct. 6.

Juke Box ...

The juke box will return. But, says the owner, Mr. Peck, there will be no more if the episodes of last spring continue. Certain athletes will have to confine their muscular gyrations of lifting and dropping to the athletic department. If the records and machine continue to be broken, it will necessitate the removal of the juke box, this time for good.

---

Tryouts for two male yell leaders will be held tonight at 7:30 in lower Jones. Anyone interested may try out.

---

The General Calls ...

Plenty of brass was on campus this week—the commanding general of the Fourth Air Force, Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., came to inspect the A.F.R.O.T.C. unit and gave it a clean bill of health.

The two-star general, Maj. Gen. William E. Hall, charted a three-way route for defense against Communism.

"Defense against Communism is preparedness—educational, spiritual and physical. It is impossible for us to do too much to gear ourselves against new Red outbreaks," he warned.

Homecoming ...

As the weeks before Oct. 18 pass, Homecoming seems more a reality than notes scribbled on scraps of paper. Committees are hard at work. The homecoming buttons arrived and were given to committee heads and beard growers. The remainder will go on sale to the student body Monday for 10c. The charge will help cover the button expense.

Five types of awards will be given by Fox Jewelry for the parade winners. A trophy will go to the best fraternity float and stunt, the best sorority float and stunt, and the oldest car.

The committee recommends no corsages be worn at the dance, a 9 to 1 affair in the Fieldhouse. This follows a Central Board suggestion of last year. A packaged contract for $375 has been signed for the band. Art Mineo will make his first appearance in Tacoma at Homecoming before opening a year's engagement at the New Yorker. Intermission entertainment will feature Rocky Copple's fast jazz band.

The coke dance will be Thursday in the SUB from 3 to 5, with beard judging around 4. Claire McNeill says, "If your beard's itchy, try using baby oil."

The Kent high school band has been obtained for the game Saturday afternoon on the campus field.

Final planning for Homecoming will get under way next week.

Debate Tournament . . .

Forensics students of 12 or more colleges from Oregon and Washington will meet here Oct. 26 and 27 for a practice tournament. This tournament is becoming an annual event, and was instituted by the forensics department of CPS. This is the fifth year for the tournament.

Why a practice tournament should bring such interest is explained by Dr. Battin. "It gives the student a chance to act under fire, it brings out the problems that will be faced in the main tournament and gives the coach a chance to readjust his squad if necessary."

Resolved will be, The US should adopt a permanent program of wage and price controls. There will be four rounds of debates Friday afternoon and an exhibition debate at 7:30 Friday evening. Saturday morning will be oratory, interpretative reading and extemporaneous speaking.

Debates will be held in classrooms. Anyone interested in attending may check in Jones 204. This room will be headquarters for the debate activities.

Pi Kappa Delta members gathered in Jones Hall Tuesday morning and elected officers for the present semester. Tom Stanfield is the new president; Jim Durand the vice president; Dr. Battin, the corresponding secretary; and Ed Hibben, secretary-treasurer.

Pi Kappa Delta is the campus forensics honorary.

Music Tea . . .

Members of Sigma Alpha Iota gathered in their meeting room on the second floor of the music building to make plans for a tea scheduled for Oct. 14.

Invitations are being made out for women students majoring or minor-ing in music. "This year we are contemplating sending invitations to the women who are enrolled in the music courses but are not planning a major or minor in the field," said dark-haired Gen Starkey, president of the group.

The newly-elected officers, replacing the one who did not come back, are Mary Cross, recording secretary; Suzie West, chaplain; and Margie Lutz, sergeant-at-arms.

The members have circled the 18th of November as the date for the American Music Concert.

ORGANIZATIONS

IRC Banquet . . .

Members of the International Relations Club will gather for their annual dinner-banquet tonight at the Top of the Ocean. The dinner will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Warren Tomlinson, head of the German Department and IRC adviser, will be the main speaker.

Purpose of the IRC is to promote a better understanding between foreign and American students on the campus. For those students interested in international problems the club affords an excellent opportunity to receive first-hand information from natives of the countries involved, a spokesman for the group pointed out.

Tickets for the dinner-banquet may be purchased from Barbara Johnston or Kathryn Stanifer of Anderson Hall or from Tom Rutledge of Todd Hall. All students interested are cordially invited to attend.

CHAPEL

Convocation . . .

We are losing the battle of words in Europe; the Germans don't like what we are doing; many Europeans are just as afraid of us starting World War III as the Russians; and they think we talk too much and are hysterical.

CPS students were given these choice mouthfuls to chew on at last Tuesday's convocation. They came from speaker Dr. Warren Tomlinson. He and a group of others from CPS returned recently from Europe where they participated in the Co-operative International Summer School in Gothenburg, Sweden.

"We are not winning the battle of the airways," Dr. Tomlinson said, referring to the East-West clash of ideologies. "In Germany there is increasing bitterness and dislike for American occupation forces." Tomlinson indicated, however, that apparently the Germans do not want the Americans to leave, preferring us to the Russians.

In regards to the hysteria that Europeans feel is prevalent in America, Tomlinson said that there is fear that this country will make a blunder that will bring on World War III.

"There is talk of purges in this country too," Tomlinson said. "And people are wondering if we still have our freedoms."

Others from here who took part in the European Summer school and who spoke, on their reactions at Tuesday's convocation include June Wright, Pat Novak, Ralph Mackey and Lon Hoover, students, and C. Miller and Dr. W. Phillips, faculty members.

Selection of three new Spurs was announced at Tuesday's assembly. They include Maris Anderson, Joyce Anderson and Glee Callahan.

THE TRAIL

Thursday's convocation was devoted to a screening of moving pictures taken by Ed Hibben in Korea and Japan. Included in the films was a Japanese cherry festival.

GREEKS

Monday night, Pi Phi held elections in which Grace Fullager was elected recording secretary and Bonnie Boze as assistant treasurer. The former treasurer, Kim O'Brien, left unexpectedly for the University of Washington which she will attend this quarter.

Also elected were rally committee representatives, Bev Hoback, Wilda Ratzlaff and Ann Marr. Homecoming queen candidate is Corinne Sule. Others working on Homecoming are Carole Long as float chairman and Ann Dubois as room chairman. New pledges, Sharon Eulberg and Donna Rockway were greeted and will be formally pledged later.

Theta Chi's first dance of the year will be held Saturday night at Lakewood Center. Differing from the pattern set in the past, this event will be a pajama dance, the first to have been held on campus for many years.

Rod Smith was elected first guard to replace Navy reservist George Berland who was recalled this summer. Executive board committeemen are Ted Bottiger, president; Marc Daen, vice president; Ed Pawlak, secretary; Dick Olson, treasurer, and Don Lee, sergeant-at-arms.

Chapter President Bob VanSlyke has been elected Inter-fraternity co-ordinator.

The pledges of Delta Delta Delta held a successful sneak Monday night. The affair was held at the Tacoma Laundry. Rachel Haskell is Tri-Delta candidate for Homecoming.

A gift from Delta Kappa Phi was received by the Tri-Deltas this week. The gift was a vase and a figurine.

The Delta Kaps lost a game of fastball to the Kappa Sigs, 28-0, and 12-0. Ken Campbell passed out pie to the fraternity in honor of his engagement to Kathy Childs. The fraternity is making plans for a fireside with the Gammas Monday.

Gammas' regular meeting Monday ended and actives got together with a dozen alums who came for a yearly meeting with the actives. Cider and doughnuts were served.

Homecoming chairman for the Gammas is Joanne Ryan; Dolores Lovejoy, float; Bernadine Budil and Nadean Taylor are co-chairmen for room decoration.

On Tuesday snap bids were accepted by Evelyn Emert, Pamela Stroud, Pat DeMars and Pat Barem. Maris Anderson and Joyce Anderson, sophomores, were tapped for Spurs in Tuesday's convocation.

This week Kappa Sigma meeting featured elections of official positions vacated during the summer. Walt Millard was elected grand master of ceremonies for the coming semester, and Ray Duggan and Jerry Beardsley were elected guard.

The annual Kappa Sigma waffle breakfast for the sororities will be held Sunday, Oct. 14.

Alumni Kerry Hersey was present at the Monday night meeting to announce his engagement to Pat Chapman.

Sigma Chi pledges staged a successful sneak to the recreation room of the Bethany Methodist church Monday night. New snap pledges are George Luscomb, Don Wolvers and Ted Lyon.

Last Monday evening Lois Wedeberg passed the traditional box of chocolates to Lambda Sigma Chi sorority sisters to announce her marriage to Jay Skidmore. The pledges elected Sarah Jager as president and J'Anna Sharrard as treasurer. Snap bids were received by Rosalie Messinger, Jean Stobbs, Laura Gray, Leona Raeclift and Patty Palmer.

During the regular meeting of Pi Tau Omega Ron Miller was formally initiated. Plans are progressing for homecoming with committee meetings on the float and house decorations well under way. The following members were married this summer: Bob Horader and Shirley Brubaker, Bill Stidwell and Silvia Rowe.

Last Sunday Sigma Nu held a formal initiation of last semester's pledges. The new members are Ron Knoll, Dick Algeo, Jerry Johnson and Bill Walsten. Three new pledges are Sandy de Carteret, Hank Hergert, and Buss Pearson. A fireside with all members, pledges and guests invited, will be held after the Eastern football game.

On Oct. 8, 9, 10 the Sigma Nu Mothers' Club is sponsoring its annual rummage sale. All articles not being used by members or their families are being turned in. Two members announced their pinnings by passing cigars. They were Dick Landon to Frances Tolk, and Jim Davis to Florence Fleck. In a special meeting held to replace assistant treasurer Bink Hedberg, Don Nelson was elected to the position.

ENTERTAINMENT

One-Ace Review . . .

The night of Sept. 28 was a big evening for the freshmen. They filled the auditorium with cheers and laughter at the 11th annual Frosh One-Act Plays. Under the direction of Wilbur Baisinger, the "froshies" were guided in their actions.

Jayne Lee Yancy as the skirt in "Spring" gave a new touch on how to make love in Texas. She showed her enthusiasm to Ed Coy, the Gob, while Chuck Kruger, the Cop, watched on from the distance.

Carolyn Newhouse gave a fine performance in "Two Crooks and a Lady." Her own quiet manner matched that of Justinia Sims-Vane, the character portrayed. Barbara Swall and Jack McDougal did a fine job of acting the two crooks. However, they were caught by Jim Hoyt and Cliff King, two policemen, with the help of Maylou Blair, portraying Miss Jones.

The two spinsters, Jane and Priscilla Stewart, portrayed by Sheila Ryan and Leona Rae Clift, lost some of their New England style when John Purdy, Cal Davidson, up and proposed to Jane only to turn around and propose to Priscilla. John turned out to be the fool when he learned of Jane's engagement to someone else.

The light fantasy "Purple at the Window, Orange at the Window," was a short no-plot tale of two couples involved in colors. Joan, Janet Gerhard, liked bright colors, but her husband Jack, Karl Kuhlers, was opposed. Jean, Marilyn Rosso, like dark colors, but her husband John, Jim O'Kelley, was opposed. Even though there was a lot of mix-up everything ended happily.

"Thank You, Doctor," was a confusing mystery that seemed almost like a comedy when Frankie Amann, a detective, disguised himself as a mental patient. Doctor Guernsey, Ted Markland, and Nurse Gray, Donna Dettrick, found themselves in the middle of a jewelry robbery. Mrs. Lester, Norma Whitney, was finally caught and the pearls were returned to Denny Cort, Don Bagby, the jewelry store clerk.

"Teach" Jones and the Campus Playcrafters worked hard and congratulations are due to all who helped make the Frosh One-Act Plays a big success.

Homecoming Play . . .

Disected bodies, mysterious black satchels, and strange visitors are the theme of this year's Homecoming Play, "There's Always a Murder."

Written by a professional ice skater, Ken Parker, the play has won several awards. The story is an adaptation of an actual murder case that baffled the Boston police for several years.

Final casting has been made and the play is in rehearsal. Marilyn Planje and Don Wolvers play the parts of Drucilla and Kim Taylor; the principal characters of the play. They are supported by Jack Galaher, Le Mae Blackburn, Wally Tonstad, Don Boesal, Grace Fullager, Pat Novak, Mary Lou Moore, and Clarice Slosson.

Witchcraft . . .

Some choice musical entertainment is in store for students at CPS. May 8, 9 and 10 the Adelphians will present three comic operettas in Jones Hall. Featured will be a production composed by two CPS faculty members. Its title, Salem Witch. Leroy Ostransky wrote the music and Gordon Epperson the libretto. The other operettas are "Trial by Jury," by Glibert and Sullivan, and "The Telephone," by Menotti. Altogether the three shows will last a little less than two hours, according to Professor Clyde Keutzer, head of the Music Department.

Salem Witch is based on an authentic incident, according to Ostransky. It takes place in the late 17th century when witchcraft was causing quite a ruckus in this country. The operetta has a cast of about 50, including six principal parts.

Prior to the presentation of the operettas on the campus, the Adelphians will take them on tour. They will perform mainly in Washington.

Faculty members Gordon Epperson, celloist, and Leonard Jacobsen, pianist, yesterday performed in Yakima, according to an announcement made today by Professor Keutzer. In addition Epperson is slated to go on a six-week tour that will take him to Cincinnati.

Home Cooking . . .

Hungry for a home cooked meal? Then come to the first meeting of the Home Economics Club, Thursday in the home economics dining room. President Joan Oakes stated that the club will serve a dinner which has been planned and prepared by club members in the home ec lab. The cost of the dinner is 50 cents.

All students interested in home economics, especially home ec majors or minors, are invited to the meeting at 5:30 in Howarth. Meetings this year will be on the second Thursday of each month in the dining room.

At the first meeting a delegate will be elected to go to the Providence meeting at Oregon State College on Nov. 2 and 3. Plans will be made for the coming year and there will be elections.

Something Special . . .

On March 25, 1945, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Charleson opened a restaurant and grocery store combined and ever since it has been a favorite with CPS students. Charleson's is located on 915 No. Lawrence, a few blocks south of the campus.

Most of the trade is from college students and grocery customers in the college area. Students have found Charleson's very convenient for in-between snacks and late evening meals.

Mrs. Charleson has two specialties—her homemade pies and cakes. If you can not find your friends sometime—the first place you should look is Charleson's.

Art League . . .

The Tacoma Art League will show a new exhibit opening Tuesday in the Jones Hall galleries. It's called typography, or the art of fine lettering. An entire showcase will be devoted to this display. Other exhibits will include a memorial display play of Chrissie Cameron's works and a collection by Arnold Banks.

Remnants of last year's displays are to be found now in the men's and women's dorms. Collections of 15th century antique furniture includes a tall grandfather's clock, an old linenfold, and an Italian chest.

Faculty and Administration

Absentee Ballot . . .

Professor Kingsley Weatherhead will not cast an absentee ballot in the forthcoming election in England. "I feel my party will win at any rate," he said. When asked which party he would vote for he replied "Oh I make it no secret. I would vote conservative."

Professor Weatherhead hails from Finchley, a constituency of Northwest London. In Oxford accents he went on to explain that one away from England on business could cast an absentee ballot if he so desired. However, it is the professor's opinion that the conservatives will win in his district.

Plant Superintendent . . .

Colonel Ralph A. Ackerman is the new "Plant Superintendent" of CPS. Colonel Ackerman was formerly in the Ordnance Corps and has served 30 years in the army.

Bursar Banks said the Colonel was chosen for his experience with men and finance. "The size of the campus has increased whereas the budget has decreased." "In fact," Mr. Banks went on, "our budget this year for maintenance of buildings and grounds is approximately half of what it was four years ago."

Explaining the absence of Alonzo Emerson, former plant superintendent,

Mr. Banks said CPS needed someone to exert more discipline and one with more experience in managing a budget. Mr. Emerson was given the opportunity of staying on in a subordinate position, but chose not to do so.

A very sociable person, Mr. Emerson is now with Connors Electrical Contracting Company.

Colonel Ackerman is the father of four boys age 3, 5, 8 and 10. The Colonel, his wife and four potential draftees live at 659 No. Hawthorne. Colonel Ackerman, impressed with the importance of being "plant superintendent" said: "I hope to please everybody."

SPORTS

On Campus . . .

Coach John Heinrick and his gridders moved behind the field-house for practice sessions this week. They were saving the campus gridiron for tomorrow's game with Eastern.

The Savages—three time champions—will be opening their title defense at Loggerville. The Cheney forces have not yet played a league game.

Left half Howard Glazier will be back with the Easteners. Glazier was the spoiler in last year's Savage tilt. He broke a 0-0 tie in the final minute of play with a 60-yard touchdown run.

CPS will be out for their second conference win. The Loggers beat Central 20-6 last week. At home, they hope to improve on their won-lost record.

Eastern will definitely be on the rebound. The Savages were staggered by a 59-0 loss at the hands of powerful Western Washington a week ago.

The teams kick off at 2 p. m. Heinrick probably will stick with starters Joe Retallick and Ed Annas at ends, Earl Combs and Bob

Rodeo Field . . .

It was a funny atmosphere for football. There seemed to be an air of indifference toward the game. It just didn't belong.

The scene was Ellensburg's rodeo grounds. The Loggers came out of the same chute that the wild broncs had charged from a month earlier. Central came from the bull pen.

Hooves had taken their toll on the field and players wore themselves out dodging holes during the warmup drills. But the chalk marks were there and so were the goal posts. The game went on.

Art Viafore provided the football atmosphere on the game's first play. He faded back and hit Don Murdock with a perfect pitch which would have gone to scoring land had not Murdock dropped the ball. Fans knew then that the gridiron game was on.

The Loggers scored first as Earl Combs found himself on a Central fumble at the Wildcat nine-yard line. Dick Colombini skirted the end twice and wound up six inches short of scoring. Wally Erwin made it 6-0.

Bob Propst spun through the CPS line for a Central touchdown to tie up proceedings in the second quarter so Viafore untied them. He tossed to Jack Fabulich and the speedy Logger ran 60 yards to the field's end. Erwin kicked a point to make it 13-6.

After the Loggers had taken a halftime breather in a nearby barn, Bill Tone trotted 15 yards for another score. Erwin's point ended things at 20-6.

Intramural . . .

An important meeting for intramural managers of all organizations has been set for next Monday noon in Mr. Bird's office in the Fieldhouse. All organizations are requested to have a representative present. A schedule of the remaining games will be passed out at that time.

The first two days of intramural action saw Kappa Sigma trounce the Delta Kaps in both the A and B leagues by scores of 30-0 and 13-0, respectively. The passing of Kappa Sigs Dave Schwienler and Russ Wilkerson sparked the A-leaguers' victory. Cam Haslam, Don Maitland and Charlie Roe snared the touchdown passes.

In the B league, Dale Platt threw to Doug MacArthur and Dick Baker for the scores.

Todd Hall, which participates in only the A league, downed Sigma Nu, 8-0, on a pass from Ed Osborne to Tom Ohnbeck and a safety when the Sigma Nus fumbled in the end zone.

The league standings thus far are:

Letters . . .

Letter to Editor . . .

In my opinion the convocation speaker last Tuesday was inaccurate and unjust in 99 per cent of her speech. The principal reasons for this statement are as follows:

(a) She used the smear technique familiar to us from the recent speeches of Senator McCarthy and, a short while back, Mr. Canwell.

(b) She misrepresented the facts concerning Chiang Kai-shek. (This statement is merely my opinion, but it is as strong as hers because when her speech was analyzed it was found that none of her statements concerning Chiang were based on fact. Few people in the U.S. do know what his motives are.)

(c) She attempted to undermine the confidence of the students in their instructors. She said that there should be absolutely no discussion about the China problem because anybody who did not sympathize with Chiang was a Commie in the raw and that that was all there was to it. If this were true many of our students and a large number of the faculty would be dirty Reds. Comrades, ven gomes der revolution?

I ask you to understand that I believe this convocation speaker has a right to speak under the same principle which establishes my right to answer. If I took any other stand I would be following her example. In conclusion I will say that it is the duty of Christians to fight for and in the protection of the truth.

STEVE TUDOR.
